The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL <https://ecampus.suedwind.at/enrol/index.php?id=25&lang=en>. The page title is "Migrant Voices Heard - Moodle". The breadcrumb trail is "Home / Courses / Kampagnen / MigrantVoicesHeard / Enrolment options". The main heading is "Enrolment options". Below this, there is a section for "Migrant Voices Heard - Moodle" with a logo and a list of teachers: Andrea Ben Lassoued, Lena Gruber, Tanja Huchler-Benchaou, and René Schuster. To the right, there is a description of the course: "The transnational exchange of best practices will be further enhanced by creation of a pool of resources that will be accessed by the consortium partners and the local and regional public administrations of the target project regions via a Moodle platform. The latter will be accessible through the project website (linked to it). The initial pool of resources will be set up by Suedwind (expertise partner), and then enriched by input from all other co-applicants. The platform will help exchange relevant resources among the project participants, registered users will be able to access videos, PDFs for download. Partners will be able to upload their resources as well, thus a learning resource exchange will be achieved." Below the description, there is a "Guest access" section with a "Password" field containing "*****" and a "Submit" button.

National Reports

The national report examine as far as third-country nationals' (TCN) political and civic participation is considered in one country. Methodologically, a combination of desk and field research has taken place in order to better assess the existing needs, opportunities and obstacles in TCN political participation, and the creation of migrant councils/forums.
